

FADE IN:

INT. NEWS STUDIO - EVENING

Coming back from commercial, the News Anchor smiles at the camera.

NEWS ANCHOR

Welcome back, we have more on that developing story about the violent demonstration downtown, but first lets see what the weather is going to be for the weekend. I'm hoping no rain as I have to hang the washing out.

(Laughs then gets serious)

The ex took the dryer in the divorce.

(Clears his throat)

Over to you Ken!

INT. WEATHER MAP - CONTINUOUS

Ken awkwardly smiles at the camera.

KEN THE WEATHER MAN

Thanks, Jim.

(Looks around)

Sorry about your...um..dryer situation.

(Clears throat)

Anyway, before I start the weather, I've been asked to pass on the sincerest of apologies from the weather team here as we said that it was going to be sunny and clear yesterday.

(Clears throat again)

Those heavy downpours and flash flooding really did a number on seniors wheelchair volleyball tournament and our thoughts and prayers are with the survivors and the families of the victims.

KEN THE WEATHER MAN (CONT'D)

But this weekend looks fantastic!
We are going to have clear skies
for the entire weekend with highs in 70s for a very comfortable weekend.

Gestures to a moving image.

KEN THE WEATHER MAN (CONT'D)

However, there will be a high pressure situation coming on towards Monday that is going to make us question our ability to make it through the week without giving in to the siren call of the bottle.

Ken drifts off in a day dream.

A beat.

He snaps out of it.

KEN THE WEATHER MAN (CONT'D)

The nights are also going to be a tad cooler after that radioactive space cloud that covered the city
earlier today pushed a low pressure system out to sea.

Graphics change temperatures.

KEN THE WEATHER MAN (CONT'D)

It's going to be in the high 40s
overnight with a slight change around 3AM when we will all be unable to sleep as we contemplate life and whether or not this all a computer simulation that is being run by our lizard bat overlords.
Hail Zoltang!

Graphic changes again.

KEN THE WEATHER MAN (CONT'D)

Oh yeah. Maybe some rain or literal diamonds falling from the sky on Tuesday morning, but the satellite also shows some incoming UFOs breaking through out atmosphere, so maybe just stay in all the same. Back to you Jim.

INT. NEWS STUDIO - CONTINUOUS

Jim is drinking and has his finger in his hear. He notices he back on camera.

NEWS ANCHOR

(Downing the drink)

Thanks, Ken. Sounds like a humdinger of a weekend. I'm just getting word that the violent demonstration downtown is actually a zombie outbreak due to that radioactive cloud. We'll have more on that soon...but first sports.

CUT TO:

INT. SPORTS - CONTINUOUS

Sports reporter is a zombie and eating the camera man. He lunges at the camera and it all goes to static.

FADE TO BLACK.

END.
